This letter provides another 50.55(e) report concerning the B&W steam generator auxiliary feedwater header.

The installation of the external headers is proceeding. Stabilization of the internal headers is complete on both units. All material required to complete the modification is on site with the exception of the thermal sleeves for Unit 1, which will be delivered shortly.

The headers for both Units 1 and 2 have been tacked together and measured for installation of the riser pipes. One header in each Unit will require a pup piece to permit the final fitup.

In the last report a problem with the material certifications was discussed. Since that time, material samples have been taken and the material has been recertified.
