RE: Houston Lighting & Power Co. et al.
South Texas Project, Units 1 & 2,
Docket Nos. STN-50-498, STN-50-499

Dear Members of the Board:

Applicants have reviewed the letter and pleadings filed by CCANP on June 2, 1983 and offer the following comments:

(1) The Board's May 11, 1983 Memorandum and Order.*/ granted CCANP until May 31, 1983 to respond to the substantive arguments raised by the NRC Staff and Applicants in opposition to its Motion for New Contention on Applicants' financial qualifications. On June 2, CCANP filed a document styled as a supplement to its motion.*/ In Applicants' view, CCANP's pleading still fails to identify any special circumstances with respect to the South Texas Project which would justify a finding that the 1952 amendments to the financial qualifications regulations would not serve their intended purpose in this case. Since CCANP made no new arguments in its pleading, Applicants do not believe an additional response on their part is necessary. However, we do wish to point out that although CCANP had previously requested that the Board defer ruling on its motion so that it could cure the failure to submit a sworn affidavit pursuant to 10 CFR § 2.758,<sup>**/</sup> CCANP has still not submitted the affidavit required by 10 CFR § 2.758. Applicants believe that CCANP's Motion for New Contention is ripe for decision and should be denied.

(2) Although the Board granted CCANP's request for an extension of time to respond to Applicants' Motion to Compel Answers to its Sixth Set of Interrogatories and for Leave to File Additional Interrogatories to CCANP (April 18, 1983),<sup>***/</sup> CCANP has failed to respond and has now stated that it does not intend to respond.<sup>****/</sup> Applicants therefore believe that their motion to compel is ripe for decision, and should be granted.

(3) Finally, on June 2, CCANP also filed a document styled as CCANP's Response to Applicants' Motion to Compel Answers to its Seventh Set of Interrogatories and Requests for Production of Documents to CCANP, but purporting to respond to Applicants' Seventh Set of Interrogatories. The Board had granted CCANP until May 31, 1983 to respond either to Applicants' interrogatories or their motion to compel. Although on their face CCANP's answers are not responsive to Applicants' questions, Applicants are still considering whether to pursue more responsive answers. Accordingly, Applicants request that the Board not rule on their motion to compel.

Respectfully submitted,

Jack R. Newman
