USNRC

George Hairston is President and Chief Executive Officer of Southern Nuclear Operating Company and Executive Vice President of Georgia Power Company.

'95 JAN 30 P2-24

Hairston joined The Southern Company system in 1967 as a junior engineer at Alabama Power Company. In 1972, he was assigned to the company's Farley Nuclear Plant as an operations supervisor where he held positions of increasing responsibility. In 1978 he was named plant manager.

In 1984 Hairston returned to Alabama Power's corporate headquarters as manager of nuclear engineering and technical support. A year later he was named general manager of nuclear support. In 1987 Hairston was elected vice president of nuclear generation.

In 1988, when The Southern Company announced plans to form Southern Nuclear, he was elected senior vice president of nuclear operations of both Alabama Power Company and Georgia Power Company. In 1990, when Southern Nuclear was incorporated, he was named senior vice president of that company. In 1992, he was named executive vice president of Southern Nuclear. In May 1993, he was elected to President and Chief Operating Officer at Southern Nuclear and in June 1993, he was elected to his present position at Georgia Power Company. In December 1993, he received the additional position of Chief Executive Officer at Southern Nuclear.

Hairston is chairman of both the Nuclear Energy Institute (NEI) Nuclear Strategic Issues Advisory Committee and the NEI Nuclear Strategic Issues Steering Group. He is also chairman of the National Nuclear Accrediting Board and is past chairman of the Industry Review Group for the Institute of Nuclear Power Operations' (INPO) Evaluation and Assistance Division. Hairston also held a Nuclear Regulatory Commission senior reactor operator's license for eight years.

A native of Birmingham, Hairston received a bachelor's degree in industrial engineering from Auburn University and a master's degree in nuclear engineering from the Georgia Institute of Technology. He is a veteran of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, having served in the United States and Viet Nam from 1968-70.

Hairston and his wife, Paula, have three children, Michael Ward, Kenneth Craig and William George IV.
