GEORGIA INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY'S NOTICE OF APPEAL FROM THE ASLB'S MEMORANDUM AND ORDER DATED APRIL 26, 1995
AND REQUEST TO STAY DISCOVERY

The Georgia Institute of Technology (Georgia Tech) hereby notices its appeal from the Atomic Safety and Licensing Board's Memorandum & Order dated April 26, 1995. In accordance with 10 C.F.R. § 2.714a, Georgia Tech submits the accompanying supporting brief for this appeal.

Georgia Tech requests that the Commission enter a stay of discovery pending the resolution of this appeal. The need for a stay of discovery is exigent here, because in a teleconference on May 8, 1995, Judge Bechhoefer stated his intent to permit the petitioner to discover the security arrangements for the GTRR, including the plans developed for the Olympic Games in Atlanta in 1996. This discovery relates to the petitioner's contention that security for the GTRR during the Olympics is inadequate -- a contention that the Board admitted over the cogent dissent by Judge Kline. The
