Mr. Darrell G. Eisenhut, Director
Division of Licensing
Nuclear Regulatory Commission
Washington, D.C. 20555

Dear Mr. Eisenhut:

As a citizen of the area in which the Comanche Peak Nuclear Plant is located, I am writing to express my concern about the current controversy over the plant. I am tired of a few "bleeding heart liberals" throwing stumbling blocks in the way of the completion of this plant. There have been hundreds of thousands of people killed in automobiles since its invention, but I don't hear of these do-gooders refraining from riding in them or banning them from being manufactured.

These so called investigators are raising the generating price of electricity every day that goes by. If they think the general public agrees with them, they are very mistaken. Their actions are costing millions of electrical customers money because of unnecessary red tape. Enough is enough and it is high time the thousands of people who are ready to see the nuclear plant completed be heard.

I am not connected in any way with the companies building this plant nor with the construction people, I am just a user of their product.

Sincerely,

Don Smith
