Dear Mr. Devine:

Thank you for your communication, received here March 27th, concerning the closeout briefings staff had planned to provide your clients on March 21st.

I understand your clients would like another opportunity for a debriefing. As we discussed by telephone yesterday, staff will be able to provide closeout briefings for your two clients May 2 and 3, 1985. In accord with your request, we have narrowed the date to May 2.

Since you have indicated each of your clients will be available during regular business hours (PST), I defer to you on the most desired times for the two teleconference calls. Please let me know at your earliest opportunity of your proposed times for these calls so that we may make the necessary teleconferencing arrangements.

Sincerely,

Lewis W. Shollenberger, Jr.
