Re: Docket: 99990004/85-05

Gentlemen:

Your inspection on May 21, 1985 indicated that we were not in compliance with the date stated on the NRC-241 form submitted February 13, 1985.

This violation was true as stated except the date that we received the source was March 18, 1985.

The error was on the original date that was submitted on the NRC-241 form. I became aware of this error while on a jobsite visit on April 18, 1985. I made a note to call your office on my return to my office, but failed to do so.

- (1) No corrective steps can be taken as the dates in question have passed. Should you feel a corrected copy of NRC-241 be necessary, I will supply it.
- (2) In the future I will be more diligent when submitting the forms and wait until closer to the date needed to submit the required notification. I have informed my assistant and my secretary of the problem and they can check also to insure that the error is not repeated.
- (3) Full compliance is effective as of this date.

I hope this fulfills the requirements for response to this violation. Should you have any questions concerning this letter, I will be pleased to discuss them with you.
