SUMMARY

I called R. Stein to inform him that I had received a typed note from Charles Head (DOE) informing me that Ralph wanted to know if a conclusion had been reached on the need for full-text document search & retrieval systems and whether the DOE approach was acceptable. I told Ralph that I had discussed the subject with Bill Olmostead and that our mutual opinions were that no conclusion was made during the meeting that full-text was required but that on line access to documents and full-text capability could be called for to support a 3 year licensing. The DOE approach was not considered acceptable because it was more in line with a 5-6 year licensing process. Ralph, however, informed me that he was going to send a Telecopy version of the meeting summary he had prepared and did (also attached). He has added two sentences to the summary prepared by Charlie Head and myself (also attached with corrections by W. Olmostead).

ACTION REQUIRED
