Re: License No. 12-17574-01

Dear Mr. Wiedeman:

In response to the concerns expressed in your letter of April 29, 1985, McDonough Associates has instituted the following changes in its procedures for controlling its licensed nuclear materials.

1. Computerized status records are being maintained for each nuclear density meter. These records show the name and telephone number of the person currently responsible for each unit. The records will be maintained on the computer in the home office and a current printout will always be with the unit. Copies of the current records for our two Troxler meters are enclosed.
2. The status record will also show the dates of wipe tests. This will make it easier to monitor when the meter is due for a wipe test.
3. We are in the process of disposing of our Soiltest meter which is no longer actively used. Our present intention is to dispose of the unit through Campbell Pacific Nuclear. We would appreciate receiving any information you have on other disposal options.

Finally, we would like to amend our license to reflect our new address. As of July 1, 1985 McDonough Associates is located at:
