Re: Office of Investigations Ongoing Reviews
at the Vogtle Electric Generating Plant

Dear Mr. Robinson:

The purpose of this letter is to document our telephone conversation Friday, February 15th and, in addition, make a further request on behalf of my clients. As we discussed, Georgia Power Company, as licensee of the Vogtle Electric Generating Plant, desires to cooperate with the NRC Office of Investigations (OI) in its review of potential or alleged violations, including its review of the pre-planned October, 1988 injection of hydrogen peroxide into the reactor coolant system of Unit 1 as part of the first refueling outage. Should you wish to contact or interview any Georgia Power manager or supervisory employee who has or may have authority to represent the Company's position on any relevant matter, please notify me to coordinate your efforts. As selected counsel to Georgia Power for these matters, I will then inform those employees of the general nature of OI's responsibilities and efforts and the various rights and obligations of individuals involved in your reviews.

Based on our historic interaction, I am confident that this co-ordination can be achieved in an expeditious manner and without adverse impact on your efforts. In fact, this co-operation should facilitate your reviews -- oftentimes individuals are naturally reluctant to participate in activities which are foreign to their experience.

With respect to the clients represented by this firm in your review of the hydrogen peroxide injection and in the August, 1990, Operational Safety Inspection, please inform me if you wish to contact any of them (other than the one employee who retained separate counsel) prior to doing so. I should note, also, that at least one other employee interviewed by you in the hydrogen peroxide injection matter had a non-attorney as his personal representative.

Please feel free to call me if you have any question as to the position of my clients in these matters.

Very truly yours,

Arthur H. Domby
