Subject: Hannon Report

I told you that you may be sorry for the slip of the finger.
A few weeks ago we were told officially that John Hannon's final report would be issued on Aug. 16, 1996.
We were then told that it may be again slipped to the middle of this week.
I now understand it will not be available this week and may be in the hands of the Commission.
What is the status of this document and when can we expect to obtain a copy?
