I told RIII the same thing, and advised them to get the concerns that AMS has in writing to us (then we could respond in writing-just as we have done with other licensees with similar requests on solubility). I don't feel at this point that at a public mtg we could accomplish much.

As an aside, it would have to be noticed as an open mtg (it's with a licensee), and NEORS would have to be notified, as petitioner in this case. (We just went through a similar mtg with NIH and notified the petitioner, who did come to the mtg). Let's keep in touch. Happy holidays!
