I received your notice of debt dated July 12, 1996. I had received two other documents, that mixed up our minds, in respect to pay the annual fee. (Copies enclosed.) One of them is a letter (Exhibit #1) that states, one time extension of license expiration date. My license expires on October 31, 1996 and after this letter (received on March 1996) new expiration date is October 31, 2001. The second letter (Exhibit #2) the annual invoice fee, dated June 11, 1996, has license anniversary month March. We got confused with all these different dates. I am sending you a check for the small entities fee (as has always been) including late charges.

Cordially yours,

Jose R. Cumba Quiles, M.D.
