Dear Sal:

As we discussed in our telephone conversation, West is interested in receiving the administrative law materials from the Commission in machine readable form. I believe that they are in the public domain and that some companies now receive them in hardcopy format.

We now receive court decisions and administrative materials from several agencies in magnetic tape and diskette form under the FOIA and agreements with Government agencies. The Federal Register, Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, NLRB, Legal Services Corporation and US Tax Court all submit information in machine readable form.

Please let me know what steps we must take to receive the NRC material in machine readable form. Thank you for your attention.

Sincerely,

Kenneth O. Young
