Subject: NRC License to be transferred to MA
Summary: Attempted to call DeFeo, Wait & Pare. Telephone had been disconnected. No other number available. The next day I attempted to call another licensee and noticed that the RSO was the same individual on the DeFeo license. Although that RSO was no longer with that license, the individual on the line was Fred DeFeo, who admitted to being the DeFeo on the subject license. He stated that he had left the licensee some time ago. The company no longer exists. It had been bought out by a company which had in turn been bought out by another company. Mr. DeFeo stated that it was his understanding that the Troxler gauge had long since been gotten rid of, eventually winding up at Eriggs Associates. Charles Amato has since followed up on the status of the gauges and has determined that all gauges have been accounted for and the license can be terminated.
Action Required/Taken: Terminate license

Subject: DeFeo Gauge Status

Based on several information sources, I can report the following results.

1. DeFeo filed for bankruptcy in the Boston Bankruptcy Court under Chapter 11.
2. DeFeo was liquidated under Chapter 7; the Fleet Bank may have forced the switch from Chapter 11 to Chapter 7.
3. IR No. 91-001 lists one portable moisture density gauge; IR No. 95-001 lists four such gauges.
4. A leak test record appended to IR No. 95-001 lists leak tests for two Troxler moisture density gauges, model no. 3440, serial nos. 17951 and 20975.
5. The inventory appended to IR no. 95-001 lists four gauges including the two noted in 6 above. The other two are a Troxler model no. 3411, serial no. 15493 and CPN no. M23125226.
6. Troxler gauge model no. 3411, serial no. 15493 and model 3440, serial no. 20975 were leased and returned to Troxler; they are now owned or leased by de Jardin of Canada.
7. CPN records indicates belonged to the Salem, NH office of Dames & Moore has confirmed this. The gauge was leased to DeFoe, and has been returned to Dames & Moore.
8. Troxler serial no. 17951 is now one of five gauges possessed by Briggs under NRC license 20-16401-02; Briggs also holds a Rhode Island license for these gauges.
9. There is no report to the NRC by DeFoe et al notifying the Commission of: bankruptcy filing or cessation of business activities; and gauge disposition.

Conclusion: A satisfactory accounting has been made for all DeFoe et al gauges.

Final Actions: A hard copy of this report will be placed in the DeFoe docket; and, the license terminated.
