BRANCH

Dear Mr. Saltarelli:

Confirming our conversation the latter part of last year, Houston Lighting & Power Company plans to conduct an in-depth review of Brown & Root technical activities on the South Texas Project. The proposed review schedule is attached, with the review commencing on February 10, 1981. Also attached are a list of questions for each technical area, indicating the areas to be reviewed.

Dr. J. R. Sumpter of our company will be responsible for conducting this review. Quadrex Corporation has been contacted to provide HL&P with technical assistance and will be participating in the review with us.

You are requested to review both the proposed schedule and the questions. Group the questions within each technical area appropriately and schedule the individual or individuals who will respond during the review. While some questions are broad and generic in nature, others are quite specific and the review will be expedited if written answers can be prepared for those and be available at the time of the review. We expect the review will require the attention of the Brown & Root engineers expected to participate for full working days.

A preliminary critique where initial observations will be discussed is planned at the conclusion of the review for each technical area. A preliminary report is scheduled to be presented to Brown & Root management on March 23, 1981, with a final report due on April 2, 1981.

We consider this review a priority activity for the South Texas Project and its success requires close cooperation between all concerned parties. Your consideration in supporting this review will be appreciated.
