Subject: [External_Sender] Extent of Condition

Good morning,

I noticed that Entergy had 5 (apparently FLEX) portable generators fail during testing at their River Bend site. Has anybody checked to see if any of their FLEX pumps work at River Bend? Actually, I would be more interested in knowing that all their FLEX equipment here in the State of New York (at Indian Point) has been checked since those River Bend failures.

And, still along the lines of checking extent of condition, has anybody spot checked FLEX equipment owned by other companies operating US nuclear plants and also no longer members of NEI?

Thank you,

Tom Gurdziel
