Office of Nonproliferation and Arms Control
National Nuclear Security Administration
U.S. Department of Energy
1000 Independence Avenue, S.W.
Washington, D.C. 20585

Dear Ms. Ferkile:

It is our sincere pleasure to invite you to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission's 34th Regulatory Information Conference (RIC). This year's RIC is scheduled for March 8-10, 2022.

The RIC, sponsored by the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation and the Office of Nuclear Regulatory Research, offers an open environment in which diverse groups of stakeholders may learn, share, and discuss information on significant and timely nuclear regulatory activities and emergent issues. The RIC is the largest public meeting the agency hosts, historically bringing together nearly 3,000 participants from more than 30 countries and representing interested stakeholders from other government agencies, industry, international organizations, and the public. Increased participation is anticipated this year since the RIC will be virtual.

As the NRC continues its transformation journey to be a modern, risk-informed regulator, we are excited to bring new innovations to the RIC! This year's theme is Preparing for Tomorrow and we invite you as a speaker for our technical session entitled "Making a Global Impact – Women in International Nuclear Policy Making." We welcome your perspective and believe your remarks will help stimulate in-depth discussions that are both informative and engaging. The session is currently scheduled for Wednesday, March 9, 2021, from 3:00 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

We hope you are available to accept this invitation. To confirm your participation, we request that you complete and sign the enclosed NRC Forms 1105 and 1106 and email them to Joanne.Savoy@NRC.gov, by Wednesday, January 12, 2022.

If you are not available to participate, please notify Jennifer Holzman, Session Chair and Joanne Savoy Session Coordinator, at your earliest opportunity. They can be reached at Jennifer.Holzman@nrc.gov and Joanne.Savoy@nrc.gov.

Dear Ms. Connery:

It is our sincere pleasure to invite you to the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission's 34th Regulatory Information Conference (RIC). This year's RIC is scheduled for March 8-10, 2022.

The RIC, sponsored by the Office of Nuclear Reactor Regulation and the Office of Nuclear Regulatory Research, offers an open environment in which diverse groups of stakeholders may learn, share, and discuss information on significant and timely nuclear regulatory activities and emergent issues. The 2022 RIC theme is "Preparing for Tomorrow." The RIC is the largest public meeting the agency hosts, historically bringing together nearly 3,000 participants from more than 30 countries and representing stakeholders from other government agencies, industry, international organizations, and the public. Increased participation is anticipated this year since the RIC will be virtual.

We would like to invite you to participate on the RIC session titled "Making a Global Impact – Women in International Nuclear Policy Making", co-sponsored by NRC's Office of International Programs (OIP) and the Federal Women's Program Advisory Committee. OIP believes your participation on this panel will stimulate informative and engaging discussions.

We hope you are available to accept this invitation. To confirm your participation, we request that you complete and sign the enclosed NRC Forms 1105 and 1106 and email them to Joanne.Savoy@nrc.gov, by Wednesday, January 12, 2022.

If you are not available to participate, please notify Jennifer Holzman, Session Chair and Joanne Savoy, Session Coordinator, at your earliest opportunity. They can be reached at Jennifer.Holzman@nrc.gov and Joanne.Savoy@nrc.gov.
