An aerial photograph of the Callaway Nuclear Power Plant. The image shows the large containment dome, several cooling towers (one prominently in the foreground on the right emitting a large plume of white steam), and various industrial buildings and piping. The plant is situated in a rural area with green fields and some distant trees. A semi-transparent white rectangular box with a thin black border is centered over the image, containing the text "Callaway VQP Pre-Submittal Meeting" in a bold, black, sans-serif font.
